

Changing Neighbourhoods

29th January 2019, 2:30 to 6pm

Werkstatt der Kulturen

Wissmannstraße 32, 12049 Berlin

Changing Neighbourhoods will deal with both mobility and transformation. How have neighbourhoods developed and changed over time, in particular in cities that have experienced or are experiencing conflicts? How have central institutions of a city like museums shaped the fabric of the neighbourhoods around them? What do migrants bring to their new neighbourhoods? How are neighbourhoods organised, and what actually makes a neighbourhood a neighbourhood? These are some of the questions our next WeberWorldCafé will try to answer.

Table hosts:

Hilal Alkan, Elisa Bertuzzo, Sonja Ganseforth, Banu Karaca, Stefan Knost, Nazan Maksudyan, Fouad Gehad Marei, Derya Özkaya, Katarzyna Puzon, Birgit Schäbler, Elena Vacchelli and Kordula Wolf

The WeberWorldCafé is an interactive, biannual event format of the Max Weber Stiftung and the Forum Transregionale Studien that brings together researchers and practitioners from various disciplines and regions who meet and exchange their thoughts in a relaxed, coffee-house-like atmosphere. We particularly invite students, young scholars and the interested public.
