

Sponsored by

Leibniz-Zentrum Moderner Orient (ZMO)

The International Political Sociology and History of State Security and Surveillance

6 December 2019, Leibniz-Zentrum Moderner Orient
Kirchweg 33, 14129 Berlin

Convenors

Ilkay Yilmaz (ZMO)
Sophia Hoffmann (ZMO)

Contact & Enquiries

ilkay.yilmaz@zmo.de sophia.hoffmann@zmo.de

9:00 Arrival and Coffee

9:30–10:00 Introduction

Sophia Hoffmann and İlkay Yılmaz

10:00–10:40 Group I (Colonialism/Humanitarianism)

Polly Pallister-Wilkins (University of Amsterdam):
Amelioration, Racialised (Im)Mobility Regimes and The Debilitation of Life: From the British Empire to the European Union Trust Fund for Africa

Nina Perkowski (University of Hamburg):
Logics of Humanitarianism, Human Rights, and Security in Border Policing

Andrea Wiegeshoff (Universität Marburg):
A Danger to Public Health: Labor Migration and Security Concerns in the British Colony of Mauritius (c. 1834-1910)

10:40–11:20 Group II (Nonstate Actors/State Formation)

Sophia Hoffmann (Leibniz-Zentrum Moderner Orient):
The development and spread of modern intelligence agencies

Carla Spiegel (University of Utrecht):
From Cyber Threat to Cyber Policy: Historical Transformations of European Cybersecurity

Stephan Sander (University of Zurich):
Non-State Actors as State-Builders: Change and Continuity in Governance in Imperial Austria, 1790-1848

Jannis Grimm (FU Berlin):
Transnational Resemblances/Diffusion of Surveillance Techniques, and/or Security Institutions

Andrea Kretschmann (Centre Marc Bloch, Berlin):
From Risk to Scenario

11:20–11:45 Coffee Break

11:45–12:25 Group III (Police History/Knowledge Exchange)

İlkay Yılmaz (Leibniz-Zentrum Moderner Orient):
Trans-imperial Police Collaboration, Passport Practices and the Ottoman Empire (1898-1918)

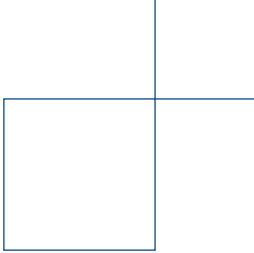

Anja Johansen (University of Dundee):
Language Abilities, Circulation of Knowledge, and Trans-National Police Engagement: Howard Vincent as a British Voice in International Police Collaboration, 1870s to 1908

Markus-Michael Müller (FU Berlin):
Imperial Auxiliary Work: German Police Assistance, US Geopolitics and the Global Cold War in Latin America

Christos Aliprantis (University of Cambridge):
Transnational Policing after the 1848-49 Revolutions: The Habsburg Empire in the Mediterranean

Pietro Ballarin (HU Berlin):
The East German Ministry of Interior's Support for Conventional Police Forces in Developing Countries

12:25–13:25 Lunch

13:30–14:00	Introduction to the afternoon
14:00–15:00	Parallel Work Sessions (G1-G2-G3)
15:00–15:15	Coffee Break
15:15–16:15	Plenary Presentations
16:15–17:00	Outlook
